HALF-BLOOD:

Covenant, book 1

by Jennifer L. Armentrout

The Hematoi descend from the unions of gods and mortals, and the children of two Hematoi—pure bloods—have godlike powers. Children of Hematoi and mortals—well, not so much. Half-bloods only have two options: become trained sentinels who hunt and kill daimons or become servants in the homes of the pures.

Seventeen-year-old Alexandria would rather risk her life fighting than waste it scrubbing toilets, but she may end up slumming it anyway. There are several rules that students at the Covenant must follow. Alex has problems with them all, but especially rule #1: Relationships between pures and halves are forbidden. Unfortunately, she's crushing hard on the totally hot pure-blood Aiden.

But falling for Aiden isn't her biggest problem—staying alive long enough to graduate the Covenant and become a Sentinel is. If she fails in her duty, she faces a future worse than death or slavery: being turned into a daimon, and being hunted by Aiden. And that would kind of suck.

“Sexy, sizzling touching and fun.” – Leigh Fallon, author of *Carrier of the Mark

“I was totally hooked to this after the first page and knew I would love it after Alex made me laugh straight away, her humour was so funny she was brilliant, feisty and sassy. I couldn't help but laugh out loud at her one liners.” – Star Crossed Book Blog, 5 stars

Baby or Childfree? Which will it Be?

THE BABY DECISION:

How to Make the Most Important Choice of Your Life by Merle Bombardeiri

Is the decision whether or not to have a baby keeping you up at night? Do you feel terrified you will regret your decision? Are you paralyzed by this high-stakes choice? Now you can get off the fence and get on with your life. Imagine your relief when you discover the right choice and break free from obsession. Picture yourself enjoying the pleasures of parenthood or the freedom and spontaneity of living childfree.

The Baby Decision is a powerful, unbiased guidebook by a professional coach/psychotherapist who has specialized in the topic for 40 years.

With wisdom, depth and humor Merle will help you take this overwhelming decision and break it down into a digestible sequence of five steps.

During this discovery process you will:

- Dissolve fear and doubt.
- Use thirty visualization exercises and thought experiments to uncover your answer.
- Have deep talks with your partner, even if you disagree.
- Resist pressures from family and friends, and fully consider the rewards of the childfree choice.
- Learn the latest on one-child families, single, LGBTQI+ and older parents, fertility and adoption.
- Steal a few benefits from the opposite choice.

Merle (Malkoff) Bombardieri, is a clinical social worker, psychotherapist, and coach who specializes in parenthood decision-making, infertility, adoption, and making the most of a child-free life. Although she enjoyed raising her daughters, now grown, she has also been an advocate for childfree people since 1979. She has been in private practice for 30+ years in Lexington, MA. In 1981, she published the first edition of The Baby Decision based on interviews and reviews of scholarly research. Then in 1982 she became Clinical Director of RESOLVE, the national infertility association. Merle's writing has appeared in Our Bodies, Ourselves, Glamour, the Boston Globe Magazine, and Boston Magazine. She has lectured at Harvard Medical School, MIT, Wellesley College, and the Cambridge Center for Adult Education. She has appeared on national radio and television news shows, talk shows and documentaries, including the Leeza Show. Merle teaches one-day workshops on the baby decision at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education in Cambridge, MA.

A snarky, steamy college romance
from USA Today bestselling author Sarina Bowen

THE YEAR WE FELL DOWN:
The Ivy Years, book 1
by Sarina Bowen

She expected to start Harkness College as a varsity ice hockey player. But a serious accident means that Corey Callahan will start school in a wheelchair instead.

Across the hall, in the other handicapped-accessible dorm room, lives the too-delicious-to-be real Adam Hartley, another would-be hockey star with his leg broken in two places. He's way out of Corey's league. Also, he's taken.

Nevertheless, an unlikely alliance blooms between Corey and Hartley in the "gimp ghetto" of McHerrin Hall. Over tequila, perilously balanced dining hall trays, and video games, the two cope with disappointments that nobody else understands. They're just friends, of course, until one night when things fall apart. Or fall together. All Corey knows is that she's falling. Hard.

But will Hartley set aside his trophy girl to love someone as broken as Corey? If he won't, she will need to find the courage to make a life for herself at Harkness—one which does not revolve around the sport she can no longer play, or the brown-eyed boy who's afraid to love her back.

"I not only bought this book and devoured it, I bought—and read—this entire NA series in a WEEK. It is OMG-awesome-NA-at-its-finest."

— Tammara Webber, New York Times bestselling author of Easy

"I absolutely loved it! And I can't wait to read the rest of her books."

— Colleen Hoover, New York Times bestselling author of Hopeless

"This page-turner will have readers eagerly awaiting Bowen's next book." — Publishers Weekly

Sarina Bowen is the award-winning author of more than 30 contemporary novels. She has hit the USA Today bestseller list 17 times and counting. Formerly a derivatives trader on Wall Street, Sarina holds a BA in economics from Yale University. She lives on a few wooded acres in New Hampshire with her family, nine chickens, and far too much hockey gear. A pioneering, high profit means of leveraging business relationships

CO-OPETITION

by Adam M. Brandenburger & Barry J. Nalebuff

Now available in paperback, with an all new Reader's guide, The New York Times and Business Week bestseller Co-opetition revolutionized the game of business. With over 40,000 copies sold and now in its 9th printing, Co-opetition is a business strategy that goes beyond the old rules of competition and cooperation to combine the advantages of both. Co-opetition is a pioneering, high profit means of leveraging business relationships.

Intel, Nintendo, American Express, NutraSweet, American Airlines, and dozens of other companies have been using the strategies of co-opetition to change the game of business to their benefit. Formulating strategies based on game theory, authors Brandenburger and Nalebuff created a book that's insightful and instructive for managers eager to move their companies into a new mind set.

"[U]ses a revolutionary approach to success in business—a form of thinking that is holistic, relational, contextual, and nourishing with a winning outcome for all those involved. Co-opetition could very well be the Eighth Law for Spiritual and Financial Success." – Deepak Chopra, Author of *The Seven Spiritual Laws of Success

"The idea of complementors is one of the least appreciated concepts in business—yet it is immensely valuable. This book does a real service by introducing it into our thought processes." – Andrew S. Grove, President and CEO, Intel

Adam Brandenburger was a professor at the Harvard Business School from 1987 to 2002. He is the author of a number of Harvard's strategy cases and, with Barry Nalebuff, author of the book Co-opetition. His articles about game theory and business strategy have appeared in such publications as Econometrica, Journal of Economic Theory, Journal of Economics & Management Strategy, and Harvard Business Review.

Barry Nalebuff, the Milton Steinbach Professor at Yale School of Management, is co-author with Adam Brandenburger of Co-opetition. His first book, Thinking Strategically: The Competitive Edge in Business, Politics, and Everyday Life, written with Avinash Dixit, is a popular business school text.

A New York Times bestseller for fans of H is for Hawk

THE HIDDEN LIVES OF OWLS:
The Science and Spirit of Nature's Most Elusive Birds
by Leigh Calvez

In this New York Times bestseller that will appeal to readers of H is for Hawk, a naturalist probes the forest to comprehend the secret lives of owls. Join Leigh Calvez on adventures into the world of owls: owl-watching, avian science, and the deep forest—often in the dead of night. These birds are a bit mysterious, and that's part of what makes them so fascinating. Calvez makes the science entertaining and accessible while exploring the questions about the human-animal connection, owl obsession, habitat, owl calls, social behavior, and mythology.

"Aims to entertain by sharing...owl adventures in the field, and by discussing mythology and owl obsession." – Forbes

"She [Calvez] offers a thought-provoking, behind-the-scenes look at the work of countless volunteers and scientists who study the "secret" lives of owls. Their unsung efforts in banding, recording, observing, nest-checking and other owl-related activities are truly impressive. And she presents the extreme challenges some owl species face in a changing world and changing ecosystem." – Washington Post

"Calvez probes the forest at night in search of answers to the mystery [of owls], exploring topics such as owl calls, social behavior and mythology attached to the species." – The Chicago Tribune

"Calvez writes with feeling and is obviously in awe of these mysterious creatures." – Library Journal

"Leigh Calvez enters the world of owls with a sense of wonder as wide-eyed as her subjects. The reader shares every discovery along the way in this winning and heartfelt exploration." – Thor Hanson, author of Feathers and Bartholomew Quill

Leigh Calvez is the author of The Hidden Lives of Owls and The Breath of a Whale. Her work has been published in American Nature Writing, the Ecologist, Ocean Realm, the Christian Science Monitor, the Seattle Times, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and other publications. www.leighcalvez.com

The essential book of basic skills and country wisdom for living off the land, being prepared, and doing it yourself. Keep your family healthy, safe, and independent. No matter what's going on in the world

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF COUNTRY LIVING:
50th Anniversary Edition
The Original Manual for Living Off the Land & Doing it Yourself
by Carla Emery

From homesteaders to urban farmers, and everyone in between, there is a desire for a simpler way of life—a healthier, greener, more self-sustaining, and holistic approach to modern life. With its origins in the back-to-the-land movement of the late 1960s, Carla Emery’s landmark book has grown into a comprehensive guide to living a sustainable lifestyle, while lowering your carbon footprint in the process. Find inspiration and know-how to live independently in this comprehensive guide, including how to: can, dry, and preserve food, plan your garden, grow your own food, make 20-minute cheese, make your own natural skin-care products, bake bread, cook on a wood stove, learn beekeeping, raise chickens, goats, and pigs, make organic bug spray, treat your family with homemade remedies, make fruit leather, forage for wild food, spin wool into yarn, mill your own flour, tap a maple tree, and more!

Basic, thorough, and reliable, this book deserves a place in urban and rural homes alike.

“Although mainly a modern individualist’s resource on how to grow and prepare food, this work is much more. As one astonished browser acclaimed, ‘Is there anything this book doesn’t tell you how to do?’” – Library Journal

Carla Emery lived on a farm in Idaho for more than 30 years as a wife, mother of seven, home-schooler, goat-keeper, garden-grower, writer, and country-living instructor. She wrote and self-published the first editions of The Encyclopedia of Country Living during the early 1970s and also ran her “School of Country Living.” Carla sold nearly 90,000 copies of her self-published editions, traveling the country to promote it and appearing on such shows as The Mike Douglas Show, The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson, The Phil Donahue Show, and Good Morning America, where she demonstrated country-living skills such as goat-milking, bread-making, and butter-churning. When Sasquatch Books published the 9th Edition of Encyclopedia in 1994, Carla continued to travel the country promoting and selling the book, and teaching the timeless skills of country living. Carla cultivated a large and loyal following across the country. Carla passed away in 2005.

A series curated to empower young children to become aware of big emotions

I CHOOSE TO CALM MY ANGER
by Elizabeth Estrada

Jackson gets upset and doesn't understand how his emotions are controlling his behavior. Through colorful illustrations and rhythmic rhymes, he learns coping mechanisms on how to deal with big emotions like anger.

Does your child get upset easily? Developing tools that help you cope with everyday struggles can lead to a calmer well-being.

I Choose to Calm My Anger is a story with social emotional learning in mind. It has been praised by teachers and therapists worldwide.

This story, told from Jackson's point of view, will help open your child's mind to what it feels like to be angry and how to deal with it. Jackson will teach your child how we are empowered to change our mindset and how we deal with life's setbacks. With Jackson in real life examples, your child will learn to develop their understanding of their own emotions. Throughout the story, Jackson will show you how it feels to be angry and then how to cope.

The decluttering craze meets a passion for sustainable living and interior design in this gorgeous new book for readers of The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up

NEW MINIMALISM: Decluttering and Design for Sustainable, Intentional Living
by Cary Fortin & Kyle Quilicy

Your external space reflects your internal state. What does your home say about you? This book promises an opportunity for self-reflection and lasting change, by getting to the bottom of why we've accumulated too much stuff in the first place, therefore allowing us to transform our lives. Professional decluttering and design team Cary and Kyle of New Minimalism will take you through every step, from assessing your emotional relationship to your stuff to decluttering your home to then turning it into a beautifully designed space that feels clean and tidy without feeling sparse or prescriptive. And all of this without filling up a landfill—you'll find resources and strategies to donate and reuse your stuff so you don't have to feel guilty about getting rid of it!

"The authors of New Minimalism reveal how your emotional style relates to the possessions you keep—and how you can finally get past it."
— Oprah

"Clean up your act in your home's trickiest spots with these smart strategies." — Rachael Ray Every Day

"This is minimalism for the rest of us...[a] more practical take on the less-is-more lifestyle [that is] more about ending the cycle of "busy" than creating a perfect house." — The Washington Post

Cary Fortin specializes in the psychology behind decision-making and attachments, as well as connecting with new organizations who can benefit from clients' donations. She graduated with honors from Dartmouth College with a degree in psychology. www.caryfortin.com

Kyle Quilicy specializes in creating beautiful spaces using the items clients already own and love. She graduated from Boston College with a degree in organizational behavior, studied interior design at Parsons School of Design in New York and earned her certificate in sustainable design from UC Berkeley's Extension.

Together as New Minimalism, Cary and Kyle have conducted hundreds of decluttering sessions and as a result they have donated over 10,675 cubic feet of clothing, art supplies, furniture, and decor to local charities; that's the equivalent of over 427 bath tubs. www.newminimalism.com

Remove the last obstacle for ultimate success

THE BIG LEAP:

Conquer Your Hidden Fear and Take Life to the Next Level by Gay Hendricks

Most of us believe that we will finally feel satisfied and content with our lives when we get the good news we have been waiting for, find a healthy relationship, or achieve one of our personal goals. However, this rarely happens. Good fortune is often followed by negative emotions that overtake us and result in destructive behaviors. “I don’t deserve this,” “this is too good to be true,” or any number of harmful thought patterns prevent us from experiencing the joy and satisfaction we have earned. Sound familiar? This is what New York Times bestselling author Gay Hendricks calls the Upper Limit Problem, a negative emotional reaction that occurs when anything positive enters our lives. The Upper Limit Problem not only prevents happiness, but it actually stops us from achieving our goals. It is the ultimate life roadblock.

In The Big Leap, Hendricks reveals a simple yet comprehensive program for overcoming this barrier to happiness and fulfillment, presented in a way that engages both the mind and heart. Working closely with more than one thousand extraordinary achievers in business and the arts—from rock stars to Fortune 500 executives—whose stories are featured in these pages, the book describes the four hidden fears that are at the root of the Upper Limit Problem.

The Big Leap delivers a proven method for first identifying which of these four fears prevents us from reaching our personal upper limit, and then breaking through that limitation to achieve what Hendricks refers to as our Zone of Genius. Hendricks provides a clear path for achieving our true potential and attaining not only financial success but also success in love and life.

Gay Hendricks has served for more than 30 years as one of the major contributors to the fields of relationship transformation and body-mind therapies. Throughout his career, Dr. Hendricks has coached more than 800 executives, including the top management at firms such as Dell, Hewlett-Packard, Motorola, and KLM. Along with his wife, Dr. Kathlyn Hendricks, he has coauthored many books including Conscious Loving, The Corporate Mystic, and the New York Times bestseller Five Wishes, which has been translated into 17 languages. Dr. Hendricks received his PhD in counseling psychology from Stanford University. After a 21 year career as a professor at the University of Colorado, he founded the Hendricks Institute, which offers seminars in North America, Asia, and Europe. He is also a founder of The Spiritual Cinema Circle. www.hendricks.com offering a whole new way of seeing and being

WISDOM FROM AN EMPTY MIND
by Jacob Liberman with Erik Liberman

Wisdom from an Empty Mind is a compilation of spiritual essays, presented in easy-to-digest, one-page sound bites with accompanying quotes. It addresses life's most important questions, with themes ranging from health and relationships to the attainment of true contentment, revealing the recipe for living life by heart. Wisdom from an Empty Mind gently pierces the heart and mind with timeless principles and common-sense wisdom, offering a whole new way of seeing and being.

True health and happiness depend on how free we are of the past, how unattached we are to the future, and ultimately, how present we are in each moment. Our real meditation is in how we handle our daily affairs, how we communicate with each other, and the integrity with which we conduct our business. In other words, how deeply we recognize that our life is our message. Based on this fundamental principle, Wisdom shares simple yet profound insights for living more fully, emptying the mind of worry, and experiencing the freedom that comes from true presence.

"Wisdom from an Empty Mind is a book you will want to revisit many times...." – Eckhart Tolle, author of The Power of Now

"Filled with profound and deceptively simple insights." – Bonnie Raitt

"This is a book you will derive inspiration from over and over again....A great selection." – Kansas City Wellness Journal

Dr. Jacob Israel Liberman is the author of Luminous Life: How the Science of Light Unlocks the Art of Living, Light: Medicine of the Future, Take Off Your Glasses and See, and Wisdom From an Empty Mind. Trained as an optometrist and vision scientist, his life changed after the healing of his own eyesight, leading him to a deeper understanding of light and the science of life. www.jacobliberman.org

Erik Liberman has worked under the auspices of Martin Scorsese, Steven Soderbergh, Robert Redford, Mike Nichols, Joey Soloway, and many of the brightest names on Broadway. Erik trained at London's Complicité and National Theatre, where he came under the wing of Judi Dench. He was the face of noted improv-and-sketch-comedy school, The Groundlings. He is Jacob Liberman's son. www.erikliberman.org

A companion book for young readers based on 491: New Revelations of the Americas Before Columbus, the groundbreaking bestseller by Charles C. Mann

BEFORE COLUMBUS:
The Americas of 1491
by Charles Mann

Traditionally, we learned in school that the ancestors of the people who inhabited the Western Hemisphere at the time of Columbus's landing had crossed the Bering Strait 12 thousand years ago; existed mainly in small, nomadic bands; and lived so lightly on the land that the Americas were, for all practical purposes, still a vast wilderness. But as Charles C. Mann now makes clear, archaeologists and anthropologists have spent the last 30 years proving these and many other long-held assumptions wrong. In a book that startles and persuades, Mann reveals how a new generation of researchers equipped with novel scientific techniques came to previously unheard-of conclusions.

Mann sheds clarifying light on the methods used to arrive at these new visions of the pre-Columbian Americas and how they have affected our understanding of our history and our thinking about the environment. His book is an exciting and learned account of scientific inquiry and revelation.

"In this beautifully illustrated and concise adaptation of 1491: New Revelations of the Americas Before Columbus, Mann paints a superb picture of pre-Columbian America.... Well-chosen, vividly colored graphics and photographs of mummies, pyramids, artifacts, and landscapes as well as the author's skillful storytelling will command the attention of even the most reluctant readers." – School Library Journal, starred review

Charles C. Mann is a correspondent for The Atlantic, Science, and Wired, and has written for Fortune, The New York Times, Smithsonian, Vanity Fair, and The Washington Post, and for HBO and Law & Order. A three-time National Magazine Award finalist, he is the recipient of the writing awards from the American Bar Association, the American Institute of Physics, the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, and the Lannan

Foundation. His 1491 won the National Communications Award for the best book of the year and the US National Academy of Sciences' Keck award for the best book of the year, and both 1491 and the follow-up, 1493, became New York Times bestsellers. MEM

by Bethany C. Morrow

Set in the glittering art deco world of a century ago, MEM makes one slight alteration to history: a scientist in Montreal discovers a method allowing people to have their memories extracted from their minds, whole and complete. The Mems exist as mirror-images of their source—zombie-like creatures destined to experience that singular memory over and over, until they expire in the cavernous Vault where they are kept.

And then there is Dolores Extract #1, the first Mem capable of creating her own memories. An ageless beauty shrouded in mystery, she is allowed to live on her own, and create her own existence, until one day she is summoned back to the Vault. What happens next is a gorgeously rendered, heart-breaking novel in the vein of Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go. Debut novelist Bethany Morrow has created an allegory for our own time, exploring profound questions of ownership, and how they relate to identity, memory and history, all in the shadows of Montreal's now forgotten slave trade.

"With her dizzying concept, richly imagined narrator, ornate setting, and first-rate storytelling, Morrow offers an epiphany for readers of speculative fiction with echoes of ideas explored in films like Blade Runner and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind. The defiant story of an impossible enigma who only yearns to be a real girl." – Kirkus

"MEM is a short, satisfying work made poignant by Elsie's voice....Elsie holds up a mirror to her human counterparts, and the reader as well." – The Washington Post

"Bethany C. Morrow achieves the nearly impossible feat of creating truly new speculative fiction; reading it feels like discovery." – BuzzFeed

Bethany C. Morrow is an Indie bestselling author who writes for adult and young adult audiences, in genres ranging from speculative literary to contemporary fantasy to historical. She is author of the novels Mem and A Song Below Water, and editor/contributor to the young adult anthology Take the Mic, which was the 2020 ILA Social Justice in Literature award-winner. Her work has been chosen as Indies Introduce and Indie Next picks, and featured in The Los Angeles Times, Forbes, Bustle, Buzzfeed, and more. She is included on USA Today's list of 100

In today's world of fast fashion, is there a place for a handcrafted $50,000 coat?

THE COAT ROUTE:

Craft, Luxury, & Obsession on the Trail of a $50,000 Coat by Meg Lukens Noonan

When journalist Meg Lukens Noonan learned of an unthinkable expensive, handcrafted overcoat that a fourth-generation tailor had made for a longtime client, she set off on an adventure to understand its provenance, and from that impulse unspooled rich and colorful stories about its components, the centuries-old bespoke industry and its traditions, and the master craftsmen whose trade is an art form.

In The Coat Route, Noonan traces its elements to their far-flung sources, from the remote mountains of Peru, where villagers shear vicuñas to the fabulous Florentine headquarters of Stefano Ricci, the world's greatest silk designer; from the family-owned French fabric house Dormeuil, founded in 1842, which drapes kings, presidents, and movie stars to the 150-year-old English button-making firm. We meet the dapper son-in-law of an Australian wine baron who commissions the coat's creation, and we come to know John Cutler, one of the top bespoke tailors in the world, who works his magic with scissors and thread out of his Sydney shop. Featuring a cast of offbeat, obsessed, and wildly entertaining characters, The Coat Route presents a rich tapestry of local masters, individual artisans, and family-owned companies that have stood against the tide of mass consumerism.

"A spirited tour of fashion history....The Coat Route compels us to remember that behind every garment is a deep history and a pair of human hands—whether those hands stitched the dress's hem or pulled a lever that strung together that $30 must-have jacket." – The Wall Street Journal

"A fabulous story, brilliantly told." – Bill Bryson

"As captivating as any mystery or thriller, The Coat Route demystifies the rarefied universe of bespoke tailoring and provides a lens into the culture that covets it. It educates and inspires. I couldn't put it down!" – Tim Gunn

Meg Lukens Noonan spent ten years as a correspondent for Outside Magazine and has written for the New York Times, National Geographic Adventure, Travel + Leisure, Esquire, Men's Journal, Vogue, Coastal Living, Yankee, and many other publications. Is Frank still a spider with only seven legs?

FRANK THE SEVEN-LEGGED SPIDER

by Michaele Razi

A fun-read aloud picture book about a spider who loves to weave amazing artistic webs, only to wake up one day to discover he's missing a leg. Is he still a spider if he only has seven legs? His question is answered as his search for his missing leg takes readers on an adventure that is sure to bring a smile even to those wary of spiders.

Frank loves being a spider, especially the part that involves having eight glorious legs. But one morning Frank wakes up missing a leg. One of his friends exclaims, "I barely recognize him!" Another friend asks, "Are you still a spider, Frank?" Is he still a spider? Frank doesn't know. A funny and heartfelt quest filled with surprises ensues as Frank searches for his leg and the answer to his identity.

"The deceptively straightforward text lures readers into the digital illustrations' silly punch lines and droll grace notes...the Jon Klassen-esque twist puts a wicked spin on his journey to acceptance." – Kirkus

"Razi's debut paints a hopeful picture about a protagonist with a physical disability while at the same time acknowledging some of the struggles he encounters." – School Library Journal

"A silly story about a spider that loses his leg." – Seattle Magazine

"A tale that teaches self-acceptance and determination." – Seattle Times

Michaele Razi lives outside of Seattle with her husband, two kids and their two rascally cats. She's a children's book writer and illustrator. She loves children's books of all kinds: picture books, early chapter books, middle-grade books and young adult. She enjoys all genres but she likes to read (and write) characters who are silly, funny and a little bit naughty. Frank the Seven-Legged Spider is her authorial debut.

A cherished tale of hardship and hard work

WHEN WE WERE STRANGERS

by Pamela Schoenewaldt

"If you leave Opi, you'll die with strangers," Irma Vitale's mother always warned. Even after her beloved mother's passing, 20-year-old Irma longs to stay in her Abruzzo mountain village, plying her needle. But too poor and plain to marry and subject to growing danger in her own home, she risks rough passage to America and workhouse servitude to achieve her dream of making dresses for gentlewomen. In the raw immigrant quarters and with the help of an entrepreneurial Irish serving girl, ribbon-decked Polish ragman and austere Alsatian dressmaker, Irma begins to stitch together a new life...until her peace and self are shattered in the charred remains of the Great Chicago Fire. Enduring a painful recovery, Irma reaches deep within to find that she has even more to offer the world than her remarkable ability with a needle and thread.

"The people as real as your own family, and the tale realistic enough to be any American's." – Nancy E. Turner, author of *These is My Words

"Schoenewaldt's heartbreaking debut is the late 19th century immigrant coming-of-age story of poor, plain Irma Vitale...Irma's adventures and redeeming evolution make this a serious book club contender." – Publishers Weekly

"Schoenewaldt (who lived in Naples for several years) is a good storyteller, and this, plus her attention to physical details, helps make the novel one that readers who like immigrant sagas should enjoy." – Booklist

"I was caught up in this compelling tale from page one. In vivid and inventive prose Pamela Schoenewaldt spins out the story of immigrant Irma Vitale's odyssey from her tiny Italian village to the jostling crowds of urban America in the 1880s—a heroine of courage and grit in a time of tumultuous change and opportunity. I was eager to follow every twist and turn. As a reader and frequent reviewer I long for this kind of lovely prose. A cut above." – Carolly Erickson, author of *The Hidden Diary of Marie Antoinette

Pamela Schoenewaldt is the USA Today bestselling author of When We Were Strangers, Swimming in the Moon, and Under the Same Blue Sky. It turns out that old junk in the attic holds extraordinary power!

TESLA'S ATTIC:

The Accelerati trilogy, book 1

by Neal Shusterman & Eric Elfman

After their home burns down, 14-year-old Nick, his younger brother, and their father move into a ramshackle Victorian house they've inherited. When Nick opens the door to his attic room, he's hit in the head by a toaster. That's just the beginning of his weird experiences with the old junk stored up there. After getting rid of the odd antiques in a garage sale, Nick befriends some local kids—Mitch, Caitlin, and Vincent—and they discover that all of the objects have extraordinary properties. What's more, Nick figures out that the attic is a strange magnetic vortex, which attracts all sorts of trouble. It's as if the attic itself has an intelligence...and a purpose.

Ultimately Nick learns that the genius Nikola Tesla placed the items—his last inventions—in the attic as part of a larger plan that he mathematically predicted. Nick and his new friends must retrieve everything that was sold at the garage sale and keep it safe. But the task is fraught with peril—in addition to the dangers inherent in Tesla's mysterious and powerful creations, a secret society of physicists, the Accelerati, is determined to stop Nick and alter destiny to achieve its own devious ends. It's a lot for a guy to handle, especially when he'd much rather fly under the radar as the new kid in town.

"Fans of intrigue, action, humor, and nonstop surprises are guaranteed an adventure unlike any other in Tesla's Attic, for readers of Rick Riordan's Kane Chronicles or Kenneth Oppel's Airborne." — Booklist

Neal Shusterman is a New York Times bestselling author of many novels for young adults, including Unwind, which was an ALA Best Book for Young Adults and a Quick Pick for Reluctant Young Readers, and Scythe, which won the prestigious Prix des Lecteurs award in France and was named by TIME Magazine as one of the 100 Best YA Books of All Time. www.storyman.com

A step-by-step system for mastering trading psychology

THE MENTAL GAME OF TRADING:
A System for Solving Problems with Greed, Fear, Anger, Confidence, and Discipline
by Jared Tendler

With straight talk and practical solutions, Jared Tendler brings a new voice to trading psychology. In The Mental Game of Trading, he busts myths about emotions, greed, and discipline, and shows you how to look past the obvious to identify the real reasons you're struggling. This book is different from anything else on the market. You'll get a step-by-step system for discovering the cause of your problems and eliminating them once and for all. And through real stories of traders from around the world who have successfully used Tendler's system, you'll learn how to tackle your problems, improve your day-to-day performance, and increase your profits.

Whether you're an independent or institutional trader, and regardless of whether you trade equities, forex, or cryptocurrencies, you can use this system to improve your decision-making and execution. Finally, you have a way to reach your potential as a trader. Now's the time to make it happen.

"A lot of mainstream trading psychology books talk about what you should be doing. Jared's book is groundbreaking because it gives you an actual model to implement. This is a huge differentiator. As you evolve as a trader, you'll learn more about yourself and your own individual challenges. One you have the framework in place, it will always be there for you." – Chris Duhanci

"Without a doubt, this book will improve your trading results. Jared has helped me to work through my tilt, rather than avoiding it. Asking 'why' has enabled me to learn from my patterns....It takes practice, but it's worth it." – Gurdeep Gosal

Jared Tendler, M.S., LMHC, is an internationally recognized mental game coach. His roster of clients spans 45 countries and includes independent and institutional traders, world champion poker players, entrepreneurs, e-sports athletes, and several PGA Tour players. THE DISCIPLINE OF MARKET LEADERS:

Choose Your Customers, Narrow Your Focus, Dominate Your Market

by Michael Treacy & Fred Wiersema

Why is it that Casio can sell a calculator more cheaply than Kellogg's can sell a box of corn flakes? Why can FedEx "absolutely, positively" deliver your package overnight but airlines have trouble keeping track of your bags? What does your company do better than anyone else? What unique value do you provide to your customers? How will you increase that value next year? As customers' demands for the highest quality products, best services, and lowest prices increase daily, the rules for market leadership are changing. Once powerful companies that haven't gotten the message are faltering, while others, new and old, are thriving. In disarmingly simple and provocative terms, Michael and Fred show what it takes to become a leader in your market, and stay there, in an ever more sophisticated and demanding world.

"A landmark work in market strategy that goes beyond TQM principles, this volume is essential for entrepreneurs and for public, academic, and corporate libraries." – School Library Journal

"The Discipline of Market Leaders is an insightful and interesting book, with much food for thought on how companies might reposition themselves to meet the increasingly challenging times that undoubtedly lie ahead." – TCI Management Consultants

Hitch a ride through time on the Danger Boy adventures. These rich, action-filled fantasies about a reluctant time-traveler and his unusual sidekicks will keep readers on the edge of their seats

ANCIENT FIRE:

Danger Boy, book 1

by Mark London Williams

The year is 2019 and a secret government agency is forcing Eli Sands' dad to continue with his time-travel experiments, even though Eli's mom has just disappeared in one. Then Eli himself demonstrates an unexpected ability to travel through time. Now he has a ridiculous new code name and a gravely important mission. With the help of new friends—Clyne, an intelligent dinosaur from an alternate reality, and Thea, a girl scientist from ancient Egypt—Eli must investigate a deadly disease, search for his mother, and stay alive.

"[I]t's safe to call Danger Boy the best children's book series you're not reading....This is the real deal, on a par with all those Brit-lit offerings (or faux Brit-lit, like Lemony Snicket) that seem to have crowded the market on novel series with serious chops, and interesting arcs." – Monsters and Critics

"This cleverly plotted, engrossing read will appeal to maturing fans of Jon Scieszka's The Time Warp Trio series....The historical details, cliff-hanger ending, and eerie X-Files sensibility will make this an easy book to recommend." – School Library Journal

"Williams introduces some provocative ideas about relativity within the context of these distinct and credible characters' narratives....Kids curious about what lies beyond the Fifth Dimension will find this a rewarding excursion." – Publishers Weekly

The perennially bestselling classic

A PEOPLE'S HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

by Howard Zinn

Consistently lauded for its lively, readable prose, A People's History of the United States turns traditional textbook history on its head. Howard Zinn infuses the often-submerged voices of Black people, women, American Indians, war resisters, and poor laborers of all nationalities into this thorough narrative that spans American history from Christopher Columbus's arrival to an afterword on the Clinton presidency.

"Zinn's work is a vital corrective to triumphalist accounts." – Publishers Weekly

"Professor Zinn writes with an enthusiasm rarely encountered in the leaden prose of academic history, and his text is studded with telling quotations from labor leaders, war resisters and fugitive slaves. There are vivid descriptions of events that are usually ignored, such as the great railroad strike of 1877 and the brutal suppression of the Philippine independence movement at the turn of this century." – Eric Foner, Professor of History at Columbia University, New York Times Book Review

"Zinn has written a brilliant and moving history of the American people from the point of view of those who have been exploited politically and economically and whose plight has been largely omitted from most histories...Seldom have quotations been so effectively used; the stories of blacks, women, Indians, and poor laborers of all nationalities are told in their own words. While the book is precise enough to please specialists, it should satisfy any adult reader." – Library Journal

Howard Zinn was a historian, playwright, civil rights activist. Born in Brooklyn, he was raised in a working-class, immigrant household. At 18, he became a shipyard worker and organized labor rallies. He subsequently flew bomber missions during World War II, experiences which helped shape his opposition to war and passion for history. After attending college under the GI Bill, he earned his PhD at Columbia University. He taught at Spelman College, where he became active in the civil rights movement. After being fired by Spelman for his support for student protesters, Zinn became a professor of Political Science at Boston University, where he taught until his retirement in 1988. He was a lifelong antiwar and civil rights activist, and passed away in 2010. Zinn was the author of many books, including an autobiography, You Can't Be Neutral on a Moving Train, the play Marx in Soho, and Passionate Declarations.

Howard Zinn's cogent defense of civil disobedience

DISOBEDIENCE AND DEMOCRACY: Nine Fallacies on Law and Order by Howard Zinn

In this slim volume, Zinn lays out a clear and dynamic case for civil disobedience and protest, and challenges the dominant arguments against forms of protest that challenge the status quo. Zinn explores the politics of direct action, nonviolent civil disobedience, and strikes, and draws lessons for today.

In a 2002 edition, Zinn wrote preface to explain his reasoning for writing the book in 1968: "When David O'Brien burned his draft card on the steps of the courthouse in South Boston, he was prosecuted, and the Supreme Court, by a vote of 7-1, upheld his conviction, rejecting his claim that it was an act of free speech protected by the Constitution. When Abe Fortas, one of those justices condemning David O'Brien, wrote a booklet on civil disobedience, justifying such prosecutions, I decided to write a response."

Howard Zinn was a historian, playwright, civil rights activist. Born in Brooklyn, he was raised in a working-class, immigrant household. At 18, he became a shipyard worker and organized labor rallies. He subsequently flew bomber missions during World War II, experiences which helped shape his opposition to war and passion for history.
